ROATIA!

If you are a foodie and love exploring the countryside while sipping great wine, when looking for your next vacation destination, think Croatia!

You have probably heard about Croatia as a 'must see' place because of its stunning scenery, but today travellers from around the world are discovering that Croatia is also a fabulous place to discover amazing food and wine. There are so many reasons to put Croatia at the top of your vacation wish list:

Farm-to-Table Dining

Croatia has thousands of years of tradition in eating farm-to-table. Everything is fresh here and the traditional way of going to the green market or fish market every day to buy the freshest ingredients for your lunch or dinner is still practiced. Whether preparing your own meals or dining out locally, you can rest assured that amazing fresh farm-to-table and locally sourced ingredients will be on the menu!

A Notable Wine History

Croatia has over 130 indigenous wine grape varieties – one of them being the original Zinfandel. Like a mystery novel with twists and turns in trying to discover the origins of Zinfandel, it transpires that the original Zin came from Croatia – and the country participated in DNA testing for many years to prove it! So, where better than Croatia to learn more about Zinfandel and taste it where it all began?

Easy Access

Croatia is safe and very easy to get to. Just a two-hour flight from many international hubs in Europe, you can enjoy a morning coffee in London, Rome, or Frankfurt and savour lunch by the sea paired with one of the many indigenous Croatian wines.

Last year a direct flight from Dubai to Zagreb was introduced with plans of adding flights to Dubrovnik as well as direct flights from North America.

It's Not Overcrowded

These days, much of Europe is suffering from over-tourism, but Croatia is still undiscovered and a place you should visit BEFORE the rest of the world finds out about it. It still feels something of a secret, and those who have already visited realise it offers a wonderfully authentic experience, unhindered by years of mass tourism.

Croatia allows you to be a true explorer – getting involved in everyday local life, tasting food that has been prepared in the same way for centuries, and enjoying some of the best wines in the world.
